Progressives From Far and Near Thronged to Honor the Nation's Greatest Citizen

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 16.—

When Colonel Theodore Roosevelt arrived at the Arcade station in this city at 2:45 p. m. today, he was given one of the most enthusiastic receptions ever accorded a statesman or orator in this city. A large reception committee, consisting of Progressive men and women, met him at the depot and escorted him in a lengthy parade which moved through all of the busiest portions of the downtown district. At the head of the procession was a detachment of police, followed by the veteran drum corps of the Westgate and Soldiers Home Roosevelt Progressive League.

The order of the procession was as follows: Automobile containing Col. Theodore Roosevelt, George Emil Roosevelt, Mayor George Alexander, Edwin T. Earl and Mr. McGrath, one of Colonel Roosevelt's secretaries, Car No. 2—Meyer Lissner of Los Angeles, national committeeman of California of the Progressive party; Colonel Cecil A. Lyon of Texas, national committeeman of the Progressive party for the Lone Star state; Dr. Tyrrell, Colonel Roosevelt's physician; Congressman Wm. D. Stephens, Hon. Charles W. Bell and Mr. Martin, also one of Colonel Roosevelt's secretaries. Then came the newspaper correspondents who are traveling on Colonel Roosevelt's private car. The next three cars were occupied by visiting notables who are prominent in the Progressive movement.

Next in line was all the Progressive legislative candidates from Southern California districts, some thirty-five in all. These candidates will be the guests of the Progressive delegation of Los Angeles County.

Cars were occupied by members of the City Council, followed by other cars containing the city officials and heads of the departments in the municipal administration. Next in line were the county officials, and following them were from 150 to 200 automobiles carrying members of the reception committee.

The line of parade was from Fifth street to San Pedro, turning north and proceeding to First; moving on First to Main, along Main to Ninth; on Ninth to Spring; on Spring to First street; First to Broadway; Broadway to Eighth; Eighth to Hill; Hill to Fifth street, and thence to Temple Auditorium. Those participating in the automobile parade accompanied Colonel Roosevelt to the stage of the Auditorium where special seats were reserved for them.

At 3 o'clock in the Auditorium an organ recital began, continuing until 3:30 o'clock when Colonel Roosevelt was introduced. Except for the boxes and the seats on the stage, no reservations were made at the Auditorium and the house was open to all comers—first come first served. The thirty-five hundred capacity of the house was exhausted in short order, and a great many were turned away. After the conclusion of the meeting, Colonel Roosevelt was escorted to the Alexandria Hotel where he will rest for a time before dining with a few friends, after which he will be taken to Shrine Auditorium, where the evening meeting is to be held. This meeting is to open at 7:30 o'clock when a chorus of one thousand voices—the Jane Adams Chorus—will begin singing patriotic songs and airs. Extra seats have been placed in Shrine Auditorium and various changes in arrangements have been made, so that at least eight thousand people can be accommodated. Even this vast seating capacity, however, is expected to be entirely inadequate to meet the demand.

Colonel Roosevelt will be introduced at 8 o'clock sharp by Mr. Edwin T. Earl. He will speak until 9:30 or not later than 9:45, after which he will enter an automobile and be driven to the station to take a train bound for Arizona, leaving Los Angeles at 10:15. From all parts of Southern California—from as far north as Santa Barbara—(Concluded on page 4)

GOOD ROADS REPORT GOES BACK TO COMMISSION FOR AN IMMEDIATE CORRECTION

In order to make a correction, the County Highway Commission's report was today referred back to the commission by the Board of Supervisors. The commission is in session this afternoon, and the corrected report will probably be re-filed and accepted this afternoon.

District Attorney West stated that in checking the report with the map he found that the report had omitted to include 4.2 miles of road on New, port road between Tustin and the south end of Main street. In order to include this road in the outline, the report was withdrawn. There will be no difference in the amount of the

MICHIGAN LEADER
VISITING RELATIVES

He Will be in Los Angeles This Week Conducting Federal Inquiry

United States Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan arrived Saturday night for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Smith, and his sister, Mrs. Ella Fyfe, at their residence at 801 French street. The senator was accompanied here by his wife and son, Elmer Bell, a senate page. The senator's stay will be indefinite. This morning he goes to Los Angeles to hold a conference with Senator Fall of New Mexico, and make plans for the inquiry that will be conducted in Los Angeles by the Senate's subcommittee on foreign relations, of which committee Senator Smith is chairman.

At El Paso the subcommittee examined thirty witnesses. Those who have come with Senators Smith and Fall to take part in the investigation in Los Angeles are F. R. McCreedy, formerly secretary of the American legation at Mexico City and formerly minister to Santo Domingo and Honduras, and Fred Ireland, an expert stenographer of the Senate. Senator Smith expects that it will be necessary for him to return to El Paso and to go to San Antonio to make further inquiries.

Senator Smith was loath to undertake the inquiry, but he would not shirk the duty even though it might prove strenuous. He but recently completed the Titanic inquiry, which proved to be a tremendous strain upon the vitality of all concerned.

The reasons for the investigation, and Senator Smith's views as expressed for the Register follow:

"The complex and inexplicable character of recent movements in Mexico are a little difficult to understand. There can be no doubt whatever but what the forces in rebellion against the Mexican government now in the field number about 15,000. The strength of the Federal army I have never known exactly. If these two forces could meet on a common battlefield the Mexican situation would be clarified in a very short time. There are undoubtedly some very able men on both sides."

"I have not attempted to go into the internal affairs of Mexico, but have made very diligent inquiry into the status and treatment of Americans doing business in Mexico and temporarily sojourning there, and have no hesitation whatever in condemning the treatment accorded citizens of our own country."

"In view of the fact that Mexican citizens have always been treated with the utmost consideration here and that their rights of person and property have been the object of our greatest solicitude, I feel that the indifference of both elements in Mexico to the welfare of Americans is a proper subject of criticism."

"They must not misunderstand our forbearance. It is not an evidence of weakness, but is an exhibition of patience and patriotism. This is especially true of our citizens along the border, where they have been subjected to every indignity and disregard for the proprieties of good citizenship. Southern chivalry has been subjected to a very severe test, and the conduct of the people of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona has been most praiseworthy."

HIS WESTERN CAMPAIGN

Taft Speakers on T. R.'s Trail
Will Speak Tonight on Both Sides of Frisco Bay

BURLINGTON, Ia., Sept. 16.—Governor Johnson left here this morning, speaking in Fort Madison and Keokuk today, and crossing into Illinois, where speeches are scheduled for McComb, Galesburg, Quincy and Peoria, the latter place tonight. The Illinois trip will consume two days. Johnson will make six speeches tomorrow.

Marshall Opens Campaign
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 16.—Governor Marshall today opened his Western campaign here, declaring that never before has the black flag of piracy floated on the political seas, or been saluted with such horror as now. He said:

"In all my career I never asked anyone to vote for me and I don't propose to now. I am not for public office if personal preference is more potent than the cause I advocate. I have no quarrel with the man who disagrees with me as to the Democratic platform. He may be right, but I don't think so."

On T. R.'s Trail
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—Ex-Congressman J. Adam Bede of Minnesota, and John Maynard Harlan, of Chicago, son of the late Associate Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court of the United States, will arrive tonight to address a Taft mass meeting on both sides of the bay. Both are following in the wake of Roosevelt. Elaborate plans for the meetings are perfected by the Taft supporters here, who predict the crowds will equal Roosevelt's audience.

LIMA BEANS REACH $5.40 PER HUNDRED SMA SHING RECORD

COURT DECIDES FOR ROOSEVELT ELECTORS, KANSAS

DENVER, Sept. 16.—The Federal Circuit Court of Appeals has sustained the decision of the lower courts of Kansas refusing an injunction sought by the Taftites to keep from the official Republican ballot the names of eight Roosevelt electors chosen in the Kansas primaries. The Taftites will probably appeal to the Supreme court.

Judges Reiner of Cheyenne, Manger of Omaha and Garland of Washington sat in the case. The opinion was unanimous. It is regarded by the Progressives as the most important victory of the campaign.

EARL STANDARD

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—Earl Standard, former head bookkeeper of the American National Bank of Pomona, pleaded guilty today of embezzlement before Federal Circuit Judge Wellborn and was sentenced to ten years imprisonment each on six indictments, but will serve terms concurrently, making a total of ten years. He will serve his term at McNeil's Island federal prison, Washington.

REGULARS WILL HOLD ANOTHER CONVENTION SATURDAY THIS WEEK

The regular Republicans who were in the minority in the Republican county convention are going to hold another convention. It will be held at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon at the Grand Opera House, Santa Ana, and its purpose is to elect a county central committee to maintain what the regulars claim will be and is the real Simon-pure Republican organization. In other words, they do not recognize the convention of Saturday last, which convention was controlled by the Roosevelt-Johnson forces in this county.

The decision to hold another convention was reached by some of the delegates of the minority after they had left the convention last Saturday. Not all of the regulars left the convention, but they will be included and will be seated in next Saturday's convention.

R. Y. Williams and N. A. Ulm as president and secretary of the old central committee, which was controlled by the regulars, have issued the call for the new convention. The call was mailed today and delegates to this convention will be not only all of the regulars who were elected at the primaries on September 3 but also all of the regular ticket who were voted for on that day but were defeated by the Progressive Republicans. It is proposed to have 202 delegates to the convention, the same number elected to the convention of last Saturday.

A central committee will be elected, and an organization maintained separate from the central committee, composed of Roosevelt-Johnson men, elected last Saturday. The claim will be made that this new committee is the real successor of the Republican county central committee of which Williams was chairman and Ulm secretary, this claim to be based upon the fact that the committee chosen last Saturday was committed by the resolutions of Saturday's convention to Roosevelt and Johnson.

JACKMAN CHAIRMAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Roosevelt-Johnson Forces Organize Body Selected by the Convention Saturday

The Republican county convention quickly completed its work after its platform was adopted, endorsing Roosevelt and Johnson for president and vice president.

The Bull Moose delegates appointed the new central committee. In those precincts where regulars had won the delegation to the convention, Bull Moose central committeemen were named. Five precincts were not completed, and the central committee was given power to fill whatever vacancies there might be.

Many of the regulars left the hall after the adoption of the platform. Others, among whom were R. Y. and W. R. Williams, J. C. Burke and N. A. Ulm, remained to the last. Burke made the motion for adjournment.

The central committee met and elected S. J. Jackman of Santa Ana chairman of the committee and W. H. Thomas secretary-treasurer.

On the central committee are:

Democrats Pass Resolutions and Complete Sessions Without a Clash

The Democratic county convention held Saturday afternoon was quiet and harmonious as the most peaceable Democrat could have wished. After H. G. Ames of Anaheim was elected chairman and C. D. Overshiner of Santa Ana secretary, the convention proceeded to adopt a platform, and after an address by Mrs. Pyle of Westminster, who was one of two women delegates to the convention, I. D. Mills, the Democratic candidate for assemblyman, asked that the convention designate some choice for membership on the state central committee and some choice for elector from this district. Mills will go to the state convention, and he said that he wanted some expression to settle the appointments.

The convention, however, did not care to disturb the prerogative of the two delegates, Louis Paul Hart of Huntington Beach, candidate for state senator, and Dr. Mills, and by vote of the convention the selection of a state central committeeman and their action on the selection of an elector was left entirely with them.

The platform that was adopted follows:

The Platform
"We, the Democrats of Orange county, California, in county convention assembled, congratulate the Democrats of the nation upon the nomination of Woodrow Wilson for President and Thomas R. Marshall for Vice President, and upon the adoption by the Baltimore convention of a thoroughly progressive platform; and we hereby declare our unqualified approval of the nominees and of the platform."

EL TIGRE NOW HELD BY REBELS

L. R. Budrow and Two Others

FEAR FELT FOR WOMEN IN CAMP—REBELS' RICH LOOT

Women and Children From Nacozari Start by Special Train For U. S. Border

L. R. Budrow, referred to in the dispatches as one of three being held as hostages at El Tigre, Mexico, for a ransom of $200,000 demanded by General Salazar, the rebel general, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Budrow, 1119 Spurgeon street, Santa Ana. He left here about two weeks ago for El Tigre to aid in its protection. His wife is in Santa Ana with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Budrow.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 16.—Telephone messages to A. Malcomson, consulting engineer of the El Tigre Mining company, say that Gen. Salazar's rebels at El Tigre, which was captured Saturday, demand one hundred thousand dollars in gold ransom for the town. Gen. Salazar is holding three Americans, General Superintendent L. R. Budrow, Assistant Superintendent Mishler, and the manager of the Mercantile Co., H. L. Nix, as hostages, and is guarding two hundred thousand dollars worth of bullion which he says he will confiscate unless the ransom is promptly paid. Fear is felt here for the six American women in El Tigre unless the ransom is paid. Several buildings at El Tigre have been burned and the rebels are getting rich loot.

Rebel Colonel Rojas with his command spent Saturday and a portion of Sunday at Colonial Morelos which was looted by the rebels last week. He departed last night and it is generally believed that he is marching to El Tigre to join Gen. Salazar and share in the rich loot there.

Many refugees arrived here today. No trains are running from Sonora.

Walter Douglas, general manager of the Nacozari camp property of Phelps, Dodge & Company, is due tonight to take personal charge of rescuing the inhabitants. It is not believed the town is now in real danger, but the rebels are moving that way and the company intends to take no risks. Among the American refugees arriving this morning were Lynn Laymore, son of Edward Laymore, who was robbed by the rebels. Marion Nagle, a mounted messenger, received word that the fuse was set for a general revolution—a revolution greater in extent than that of Orozco and Zapata combined and that tomorrow morning will witness the lighting of the fuse in Mexico City.

Dispatches received at the Mexican embassy stated that the feeling in Mexico City was intense and that foreigners there had segregated themselves behind strong barricades and were well armed.

President Madero has drawn all available troops to the center of the city and he and the local members of the cabinet will keep an all-night vigil. Plans have been perfected for the escape of the president and his family in the event of the capture of the city. The reports say the situation is so serious that President Madero has decided to issue a proclamation tomorrow at sunrise declaring the country under martial law.

Trusts No One But Family
President Madero has reached the stage where he trusts no one but the immediate members of his family. This is due, the reports state, not to any acts of disloyalty but to reports from secret agents that only a small part of the army is loyal and that the disloyal part is expected to join the movement to start a general revolution.

REFUGEES FROM EL TIGRE—
AGED AMERICAN CAPTURED
Fifty-five refugees from El Tigre arrived here this morning. They declared they made their escape under the rebel fire. There were no women in the party. N. Matteson, an aged American cripple, riding without a saddle, fell behind and was captured by the rebels.

TREMENDOUS SAVING EFFECTED BY ECONOMICAL MANAGEMENT OF THE STATE PRINTING OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 16.—During July and August of this year 23,206 more state school books were sold than during the same months last year, but the total amount received was nearly $20,000 less, according to the figures of Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt.

This reduction in the amount received shows the result of the cut made in the cost of manufacturing school books at the state printing plant under the management of State Printer Friend W. Richardson.

Hyatt reports that during July and August of this year 336,474 school books were sold for $74,435.59, while during the same two months last year 313,168 school books were sold for $93,690.50. This shows that there has been a cut of over 25 per cent.

Superintendent Hyatt in discussing the matter today said: "The result is very gratifying and shows how the cut in the cost of manufacturing books has redounded to the benefit of the parents. Mr. Richardson is giving the people a business administration of the state printing office and deserves all the credit which has been given him. I have found him ready to co-operate in every way for the benefit of the schools."

Man Drowned Falling From Pier When Asleep

Harry Whitehead of Los Angeles was drowned when he fell off the Newport Beach pier yesterday morning about 8 o'clock.

Whitehead, who lived at the corner of Seventh and Julian streets, Los Angeles, and Conrad Schempf of 819 Ganshi street, Los Angeles, went to Newport Beach Saturday evening to fish Saturday night and Sunday morning. Whitehead decided to go to sleep, and he stretched out on the pier. Schempf went to shore to see about some bait, and when he returned Whitehead was missing.

Schempf made inquiry of some other anglers who were a short distance away, and was told that a splash was heard but that they did not know the man was missing.

When daylight came Whitehead's body was found floating in the surf close to the pier.

It is thought that Whitehead was asleep and either rolled off the pier while asleep or fell off when awakened he was confused.

Whitehead was 34 years old. He was a metal polisher for the Meyberg Company, 217 West Sixth street, Los Angeles.

SOUTH COAST SEASON GOOD

Much Money Put Into Property
in This County's Beaches
This Summer

BALBOA, Sept. 16.—With the opening of the school term today many families who have been spending the summer at the south coast beaches will migrate toward the cities. The past season has been the best ever experienced by the cities and towns along the coast, and the prospects for the summers to come are very bright.

As an investment possibility the south coast has not been much considered up to this year, but now it is developing rapidly and real estate is rising in value. A great deal of money has been put into property, both business and residential, this year. Several of the towns have projected many municipal improvements which will boost their popularity.

The past week has seen several new owners of property added to the list of Bay City residents. There are now in the course of construction two houses near the ocean front, and next week another will be started.

This winter, it is said, will see a building revival in Sunset Beach. There are now in the hands of architects several plans for houses, which will be erected soon.

A system of street lighting involving an expenditure of $1200 has practically been decided upon by the City Trustees of Huntington Beach. The lights will be ornamental lamp posts of reinforced concrete and will be forty-five in number, each post having three electric lamps of high voltage.

Should the City Trustees decide, as seems likely, to purchase a site for and to erect a municipal building, a portion of it will be used for the public library, which is the pet institution of Huntington Beach. The library is growing fast in membership and in the number of books and magazines on its shelves.

The Holly Sugar Company, whose capacity was given when built at 1000 tons of beets a day, is now slicing far more than that number and is running increased shifts with a strong supply of beets in sight. Its season will be a prosperous one. Lack of rain in the beet-growing season did not greatly affect this factory, as most of its acreage under contract is in the irrigated section.

BARNUM AND BAILEY'S CIRCUS WILL BE IN SANTA ANA FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20 TH

Why the circus is ever growing, and like all good things keeps growing better as it gains in years, is exemplified, it is confidently promised, by the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, which will pitch its twenty acres of canvas here next Friday. Innovations crowd its programme.

The most radical departure from the time-worn traditions of the circus is in the elimination of the grand entry. No longer the wild zebu, the big elephants, the fierce lions and tigers and the restless rhinoceros in their gilded cages, the circus beauties in their chariots of state and the proud equestrians encircle the hippodrome oval. They are supplanted by an introductory spectacle, whose interpretation enlists the services of 1250 persons and which cost the circus $500,000 to produce.

Cleopatra is ruling over Egypt, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-nine years ago, when General Marc Antony arrives with his legions to conquer the country. And what a country! Splendors of royal dawn in a tropic sky above the beautiful city of Alexandria burst upon the eye as the great curtain, one whole city block in length, is parted and drawn away. Priests adore the rising sun; laborers and merchants are busy; citizens and slaves throng the market place; the ancient metropolis is all astir.

Then the rasping clangor of brazen trumpets. Conquering Rome is at the door. The legions invest the city. Antony holds the centre of the stage, and one glance at his passionate gestures reveals his ruthless programme. His helmet is in the ring; he's there for a fight to the finish.

Cleopatra, herself loverless than the dawn, sends him a letter, a sort of conservative, standpoint proposal. If one may judge by the ferocity with which insurgent Antony dashes it to the ground, Cleopatra tears in two her crown of pearls and rubies, and offers half of it to the conqueror. Scorn and hate repulse her.

The dainty serpent of the old Nile surrenders, yet in yielding is most dangerous. One alluring droop of her heavy eyelids, and Antony's race is run. She dazzles him with music, song, dancing and gorgeous pageantry. He gives himself up to the wonderful fascinations. At the end he falls on his sword and Cleopatra inflicts death on herself with the bite of the poisonous asp.

The sombre curtain, world-wide now, is drawn together and the spectators return from the land of enchantment and ravishing beauty. Lo! they are at the circus. Elephants lumber into the rings; acrobats and gymnasts and equilibrists and bareback riders are whirling and leaping. The circus performance, positive assurance is given, is better, bigger, newer and fuller of thrills than ever.

"The Spectacle of Cleopatra" is far and away the most brilliant and ambitious achievement of the Barnum & Bailey circus. The ballet numbers four hundred of the daintiest, prettiest dancing girls New York could yield. Their final terpsichorean effort is a flower dance, described as being amazingly beautiful. Ottokar Bartik, ballet master of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, arranged it and directs its execution. Parris Effendi, former handmaster of the Khedive of Egypt, made the journey here to provide the music.

Curious Accident
A most serious accident occurred recently, in Albany, N. Y., when a motorist lost control of a car going down a hill. When it reached Broad street it left the track, overturned and crashed into a three-story dwelling. Seven passengers and the motorist were injured, though none fatally. The car smashed into a bedroom where a man, his wife and child were sleeping. They were showered with plaster and broken glass from the window, but were uninjured.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA IS AIDING FARMERS TO PROSPER

To increase the yield per acre of every farm in California, that thus the farmer's profit may be increased, and yet the cost of living be reduced for the consumer—this is the object of the university's institute which the University of California is now arranging for the current year. The state has provided $15,000 for this year's work of sending out agricultural experts from the university to spread among the citizens of California knowledge of methods which will make the soil more fruitful, crops more valuable, and farm life better.

In stock-raising and dairying regions, for instance, the farmers' institute lecturers are promoting the planting of alfalfa, timothy, or clover, that the number of animals a given acreage will support may be increased from the small figure wild grasses will carry, and the profit be made more commensurate with the values of California lands.

To the dairymen the farmers' institute workers preach the use of the Babcock milk-tester, so that by testing the milk from each cow, perfectly, the owners may find which cows are producing enough butterfat to make a profit, and so be able to get rid promptly of the cows which cost more to feed than they earn. As a result of such preaching by the university lecturers, many California communities have now organized neighborhood associations which hire men to visit every dairy farm in the district and test the milk of every cow monthly. Besides helping the dairymen to keep only cows which are good producers, this enables him to be sure the creameries are paying fairly for cream on the basis of butterfat content.

In the peach-growing districts, the men from Berkeley are urging that courageous thinning of young fruit will make larger profits. The university experts find that many orchard owners cannot bring themselves to thin their fruit freely, this seeming to them wasteful. Yet the university men point out that, in an ordinary year, to thin the fruit, two-thirds to three-quarters will result in a greater yield, by weight, and much improved quality, and consequently better prices. Moreover, the same weight of large, fine peaches has been far less strain on the vitality of the tree and far less tax on the fertility of the soil than would have been the same weight per tree of small, crowded fruit.

In grain-growing regions the farmers' institute lecturers seek to spread the use of improved methods in the way of deep plowing, sowing with a drill and not with a broadcaster, using improved seed, etc. Everywhere much attention is given to advice as to how the soil may be improved, by proper cultivation, by the use of the exact fertilizer ingredients needed, by plowing under green-manuring crops to increase the humus, etc.

Advice on how to fight injurious insects is eagerly received by the public. To be interested in the question of how many legs a red spider wears assumed a new value in the minds of auditors at farmers' institutes when they heard that while this destructive pest of almond, walnut, and peach trees has six legs, sulphuring will readily destroy it, but that when the spider has covered another pair of legs, sulphuring has been delayed unduly, and will prove far less effective.

The practical value of the university's aid to the farmer is well illustrated by the fact that the apple harvest of the Pajaro valley is annually about 1200 cars larger than it would be if the University Agricultural Department had not discovered how to prevent the destruction of the codling moth was causing. The solving by the university of the problem of how to prevent the depredations of the peach worm is resulting in an annual saving of about $150,000 to the Placerville region.

Farm sanitation is another subject dealt with at the farmers' institutes—the importance of kitchen labor-saving devices, of having running water piped into farm houses, of screening places where food is kept, prepared, or eaten; of combating the fly and of disposing of human wastes in simple septic tanks, etc., below ground and protected from flies, so that disease shall not be spread. Home gardening, poultry work, and domestic science, including suggestions as to how to make foods most digestible and appetizing, are also dealt with. It is found that the women auditors at farmers' institutes are as keenly interested as the men in technical agricultural matters, such as the principles of feeding stock, of applying irrigation waters to the best advantage, of grafting vines, of plant and animal breeding, etc.

The program of farmers' institutes for the year is now being arranged by Professor Warren T. Clarke, superintendent of University Extension in Agriculture. Last year's institutes were attended by 37,000 persons, in 107 different places, while 102,624 persons visited the agricultural demonstration train, which traveled 6847 miles and made 237 stops.

Many of the subjects which are dealt with briefly at the farmers' institutes, in sessions of one or two days, are treated more extensively in the short courses at the University Farm. These short courses at Davis, in terms of two to six weeks for various subjects, are arranged for this year from September 23 to November 21. The first to begin are the short courses in general agriculture, from September 23 to October 5, and the six-weeks poultry course, from September 23 to November 2. They are planned to be of value to any practical farmer.

Many Driven From Home
—Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping-cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

METHOD OF DECIDING WINNERS OF ALPHABET AD. CONTEST CHANGED

Hereafter the awards in the alphabet ad. contest will be made differently. ## Six Reasons Why You Should Do Business With This Bank

1. Depositing your money in bank makes it absolutely safe from loss by robbers, fire or accident.
2. With a bank account you can pay your bills by check. The canceled check is a legal receipt for payment. You cannot be made to pay the bill twice.
3. A check book makes all your money available at any moment, and you are never bothered about making change.
4. The bank keeps your books. Every deposit and the amount of the checks you draw are carefully entered in your pass book by expert bookkeepers, so that you know where you stand at the end of the month.
5. Nearly every man needs to borrow money at some time. If you are well known at the bank, through your bank account, it is easy to get accommodation.
6. Every check you write is an advertisement of your good business habits and solid worth, which has the effect of raising you in the general esteem of your neighbors.

Any one of the above reasons is of itself sufficient to influence you to open a bank account. It will only take a short acquaintance with this bank, and the facilities it offers, to convince you that six reasons are only a few of many more why you should make it your financial home.

Now is the time to begin the practice of these most approved business methods, and to make this bank what we want it to be—

ARIZONAN HAS FRESH DATES

Grew Them at Tempe—Uncle Sam Working Up Market For the Fruit

F. H. Simmons, who is in charge of the date farm at Tempe, Ariz., conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture and the State of Arizona, is in Santa Ana visiting at the home of his uncle, Prescott Allen, 614 McClay street.

Simmons has some luscious fresh dates with him, picked last Saturday. He is on a tour of the coast working up markets for fresh dates, which is going to be a big industry in Arizona within a few years.

"We have been growing dates at Tempe for twelve years," said Mr. Simmons, who has been in charge of the ranch for eight years. "This year we will produce six tons of fresh fruit. We have demonstrated that dates can be grown there successfully, as has also been demonstrated in Imperial Valley, and many ranchers have planted dates. It is now our duty to work up a market for the fresh dates. We must educate the people to eating them. Newberry and Jevie in Los Angeles have been handling fresh dates for two years. The fresh fruit keeps about ten days. There will be some put on sale at the Dragon in Santa Ana."

"Our Tempe ranch has 124 varieties of dates growing upon it, and we are growing the fruit commercially at a profit. That is the reason ranchers have taken the industry up."

SALVATION ARMY HARVEST HOME AND WEEK-END MEETINGS

The Salvation Army had some splendid week-end meetings in connection with their Harvest Home. Staff Captain Clifford led all the meetings, and was assisted by Adjutant Riley, who is the secretary of the Young People's Work in this province. The adjutant, who is a beautiful singer, sang two or three times at each meeting. The officers also accompanied Capt. Sochon and his workers to the jail, to hold their usual meeting, where they had the pleasure of seeing another prisoner profess conversion and decide to live a different and better life. A great and important work is being done in this direction, and we understand from the captain that he is going to give to the press a report of the work already accomplished in this direction.

The Harvest Home meetings will be continued this evening, and after the meeting an auction sale will be held for the disposal of the quantity of fruits, etc., collected, the proceeds thereof to be devoted to the work.

SCHOOLS OPEN FOR THE TERM

Newhope, San Juan and Santa Ana Are the Only Exceptions in the County

Nearly all the schools of Orange County opened today for the fall term of school. Santa Ana schools do not open until September 30, the date set several weeks ago by the Santa Ana Board of Education. The county schools, under the control of the county school board, were requested to open today, and all of them except Newhope and San Juan did open today. Owing to the fact that there is a case of infantile paralysis in the Newhope district, that school will not open for two weeks. The infantile paralysis patient is almost ready to be let out of quarantine. San Juan will not begin school until after the walnut harvest is completed. Hitherto that school has opened for a few weeks in August and September, then closed during the walnut season so the children could pick up walnuts. This year school will commence after the walnut picking period, and will hold later in the summer to complete nine months of school.

FIND MISSION ARCHES RIGHT

Artists Again Express on Canvas Beauty of San Juan Capistrano

San Juan Capistrano mission proves an inexhaustible mine for artists. Its praises have been sung by hundreds of painters, sketch artists and photographers. Here is the latest, from the Los Angeles Times:

The Sketch Club has instituted a series of one-man shows which promises to be of great artistic importance. The first exhibition was given last month, though strictly speaking this was not a one-man show, there being two exhibitors, Charles Owens and Charles Percy Austin, the one with pictures from San Pedro, the other with studies from the mission of San Juan Capistrano.

However, Jack W. Smith, whose pictures from Capistrano, painted about the time when Austin painted his, will be shown tomorrow and for several weeks to come, has a competitor on the walls. The artist remained six weeks at the mission, making twenty-four studies, half of which will be shown.

The growing power of Smith as a painter has been noted with interest by all lovers of art. His technique has rapidly broadened and strengthened, his touch has become surer and freer, he has been enabled to say more and more of what he feels. The work in the present exhibition is delicately poetic in quality, well toned, full of a beautifully diffused light. Some painters make color in sunlight bright and garish. Not so Jack Smith, for he has studied his subject well and knows that color when seen under that direct rays of the sun wraps itself in a gauzy veil of gray.

Smith came to Los Angeles from Cincinnati five years ago. Though he was for some years a member of the Cincinnati Art Club, his only instructor in art has been the great out-of-doors. He has never felt the need of any other, though now and then, like all sensible painters, he has listened to (and perhaps taken) the friendly suggestions of his fellow artists. However, he has a newspaper experience which was of inestimable value, for he served four years on the Cincinnati Enquirer. Yet he never felt any special desire to become a painter until he saw the wonderful landscape of Southern California. He couldn't resist it. He took to brushes and color, and he has held a firmer and firmer grasp on them ever since.

I have said that these studies from Capistrano are poetic. They are more than this—they have a fine religious feeling. The artist has approached his subject in genuine sympathy, deep understanding, with the result that his work has interest beyond the merely artistic, though the artistic charm is great. I have seen many studies by as many artists of the main corridor of the mission, but none that was more attractive than Jack Smith's. And the final qualities in "Choir Loft in Serra's Church" make it memorable. The picture is painted in warm browns and grays, cut by the light which streams through the open door. There is a bright flood of sunlight, too, in "Sacristsy of the Ruined Church," in which a figure is introduced, a boy in blue jeans standing near the door.

One of the best of the pictures is "El Comedor," the picturesque corner in the dining-room of the mission, which has been used by C. A. Priest, Jack Smith and many other painters as a studio. Equally beautiful, though in a very different way, is "Sanctuary Corner of the Ruined Church," the broken arches and columns standing like "towers of ivory" in the diffused sunlight. And hardly less fine than either picture is the study painted from the roof over the kitchen of the mission, and entitled, "Las Tejas de la Mission." The picture is unique in subject. No one has painted the mission from the roofs before. Over the stretch of red tiles we see the noble gray ruin of the tower.

"Old Chapel and Baptistry" is made exquisite by diffusion of sunlight, and "Puerta Chiquita" has unusual beauty. The artist has seen artistic possibilities in even a prosaic irrigation ditch, for one is introduced with excellent effect in the dreamy landscape called "The Mission hills."

Other interesting pictures in the collection are a study of Charles Percy Austin standing in a blue blouse before his easel; a scene near "Temple block" on a rainy day; "Lengthening shadows," a landscape with well modeled clouds.

The exhibition will be open to the public every day except Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. There are no admission charges. The Sketch Club is at No. 222 Copp building, and the Copp building is at No. 218 South Broadway.

START PAVING STREETS SOON

Blake Bros. Have Almost All property Owners on Private Contracts

The indications are that it will now be but a very short time until paving work is begun on Bush, Tenth and Sixth streets. The latter part of last week representatives of Blake Bros., who proposed to put down the paving by private contract, were here and contracts were signed up by a large proportion of the interested property owners.

The contract for paving Tenth street from Main to French street is practically completed, and the contract for paving Bush from Fifth to Washington avenue has been signed by a large share of the frontage. There are a few non-resident owners to be heard from, and one or two others who have not yet signed. Sixth street will probably be signed for the paving from Main to Spurgeon.

The paving proposed is the El-so asphalt pavement, which will cost ten cents per square foot.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage a Simple Remedy For Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp, and thin, weak, falling hair.

The beauty of the hair depends more on its rich, even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh faded hair, when a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose, falling hairs. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength and beauty to your hair.

THE RISING TIDE OF ROOSEVELTISM

Probably the most remarkable and significant feature of Saturday's Republican county convention was the meager strength shown by the Taft Republicans. Although apparently they elected something like 80 out of 202 delegates at the primaries, they cast only some 50-odd votes in the convention; and the Progressive (Roosevelt and Johnson) Republicans, who apparently elected only 115 to 125 delegates at the primaries cast over 150 votes in the convention.

The conclusion is inevitable that the Taft people were not wise to the political predilections of their candidates, or that some of them became converts to the Progressive gospel between primary election day and county convention day.

Unquestionably the landslide towards Roosevelt and Johnson is on, not only in this county, but throughout the state and nation.

California supporters of President Taft account for their lack of numbers by explaining that only in the far west is their champion weak. To hear them tell it, Taft is strong everywhere else. But now comes the evidence of the Chicago Inter Ocean, a rabid Taft paper, that the president is weak everywhere. It says:

The most striking features of this national campaign are the Republican apathy toward Mr. Taft and the apparent inability of the Republican campaign to grasp the true nature of the situation. Mr. Taft's personality never has been and never will be an important factor in the contest. The voters cannot be rallied to the personality of Mr. Taft. Let the Republican managers realize that it is not just a man, but a cause.

After explaining that Taft stands for the "great cause of constitutional liberty and security of property rights," the Inter Ocean concludes: "The battle for Taft the man was lost before it opened. The battle for the cause of orderly American liberty may yet be won."

There is conclusive testimony that Taft is as weak in the east as he is in the west. As for his cause, it is no stronger, for it is not what his newspaper advocates it to be. He stands not for orderly American liberty, but for orderly American slavery to the special interests that have made a mess of his administration and exposed him as a mere puppet of designing advisers. And neither he nor his cause will gain strength as the campaign progresses, for one is as thoroughly discredited as the other.

In the vain hope of stemming the rising Roosevelt tide the Taft national committee is sending a wit and orator trailing through the west after the Progressive leader. No doubt it wanted men of weight, but it couldn't get them, so it takes the best to be had. Bode, the wit, was for several terms a member of congress from Minnesota. He was a great joker and often set the house in a roar, but finally his constituents learned that his humor was a cloak for his real work, which was taking the program

THE WAY CALIFORNIA DOES THINGS

Charles Dwight Willard, in the California Outlook.

It is a wonderful state, this California of ours, and we have good right to love it. If, just among ourselves, we wish to boast a little, there is any amount of good material ready for that purpose. Good one of the Sisterhood of states has its individuality and its history, but they resemble one another in countless ways, while California stands alone and unique.

Let us take an example of the way California does things. It is the second year of the Civil War. The good women of the north had an organization for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers, called the "Sanitary Commission." In the first fifteen months of its career it had collected a fund of $170,000, most of it raised in small sums by holding "fairs." One day, in checking up the states from which money had come, the directors found that California had contributed nothing. It had never been officially asked to contribute. At the outbreak of the war, it will be remembered, there was doubt in the north as to which side California would espouse. So a dispatch was sent over the newly completed telegraph line to the Mayor of San Francisco, describing the dire straits to which the organization was reduced and asking for money.

"How much do you want?" asked the mayor, in reply.

At this there was some debate as to whether to ask for a really big amount like ten thousand dollars, or a modest one of two thousand. It was finally decided to say, "Send all you can."

Twenty-four hours later came a dispatch from San Francisco: "Am sending one hundred thousand dollars. More to follow later."

Two weeks after came another hundred thousand. And when the cash receipts of the commission, one year later, reached the million mark, it was found that California had contributed three-fourths of the total. That woke up the rest of the Union, and it proceeded to put in another million and a half.

But that was the kind of state California was in those days. Something different from the rest of them. It is the same situation today. There are forty-odd states—and our own California.

The political career of California during the past two or three years has put new pride and joy into the hearts of her devoted children. For rapidity and thoroughness in the forward movement there has been nothing to match it in the history of the nation. Like many private individuals, California, as a state, had been so intent upon its business affairs, settling its lands and developing its resources, that it had neglected its civic duties, and for a long period our institutions, from the Supreme Court down, were in the hands of the Southern Pacific Corporation. It seems intolerable to us now that this was ever true; but in those days we accepted it as a matter of course. As last, in 1911, the people rose and threw off the yoke. For their success they owed much to the rising spirit of progress which flowed in from the nation at large; they owed much to wise and energetic political leadership; but they owed most of all to the courage, earnestness and indomitable persistence of the candidate for governor, Hiram Johnson, who for seven long months campaigned the state from one end to the other, telling the people the story of their shame and calling upon them to redeem their beloved California from the corporation that held it in pawn.

Having won back the state administration and the legislature, the people of California then proceeded to put through a program of industrial and administrative reform that gave the state first place among the most advanced commonwealths of the nation.

Then came the Republican convention at Chicago, to which California contributed a delegation pledged to Roosevelt, who was the overwhelming choice of the rank and file of the party throughout the nation, and who in this state, received 77,000 plurality over Taft. But California sent something more to the convention than its mere delegates of 26 votes. That would be only a trifling 2 per cent of the total; but as a fighting force, as a reservoir of enthusiasm, as an example of what the doctrines of Progress meant when put into operation, the California contingent played an important part in the convention; and had that body not been handcuffed and muzzled, or its action fixed for it before hand, our own delegation might have contributed the moral force to sway results. But even as the case stood, California's courage and independence were of great value in starting the movement for the new party.

Then came the Progressive convention at Chicago, called to rectify the fraud and mistakes of the Republican gathering, and again California appeared in the center of the front rank, this time easily first among all the sisterhood, as it leads its record for progressive work accomplished. One other state there was that might have stood as a rival—Wisconsin—but it was disqualified through the pitiful spite and jealousy of its political leader, La Follette. How long he can continue to lead, maintaining such a course, is a question we will not discuss here.

But the greatest triumph for California lay in the honor of the national ticket earned and honestly won by her favorite son, Hiram Johnson. It is a pity that the title "favorite son" has been so over-used in politics as to become almost meaningless, for in Johnson's case it has the deepest kind of meaning and force. Is he not entitled to the name of favorite who delivered the state from its political thralldom, who gave this state a new life under democracy, who knows the people from one end of the state to the other and is known and loved by them who serves the voters with eloquence and truth so that they are glad to follow wherever he may lead. The title is not unbecome nor clap-trap when applied to him; it is a literal fact.

And now the people of California look proudly on while their hero, with the background of a nation instead of a mere state, tells the story of our achievement and drives home its lesson of hope and success in the progressive cause. There are but few men in the country on whom nature has bestowed her two greatest gifts: wisdom in action and eloquence in speech. These two powers came to Theodore Roosevelt and they came also to Hiram Johnson. Whatever else may result from this campaign—by far the most wonderful since the era of the Civil War—the nation will find it has one more great man to add to its lists—a man great in thought, in deed, and in utterance; and it will be another laurel to California that she surrendered him for the wider usefulness.

During the meeting of the central committee S. M. Davis remarked that the convention in its resolutions failed to pass specific endorsement of J. N. Anderson, candidate for state senator, and Hans V. Weisel, candidate for assemblyman, and he thought the committee ought to pass such an endorsement. E. E. Keech made the statement that was understood, in fact all the people are back of those two candidates now and no specific endorsement was needed.

There was turned over to W. H. Thomas, secretary of the convention and secretary of the central committee, $124.10, the amount collected from the delegates, who were assessed $1 each by the convention. As there were 202 delegates elected to the convention, a large number did not pay the assessment.

MORE STRINGENT MEASURES LIKELY

Our government will be shown. Of course, we cannot afford to fly into a rage, or even take the first step that will lead to a permanent breach without the utmost consideration being given to the subjects. The spirit shown in the South has been reflected in the Washington government, and yet I do not believe that the situation with which we are confronted is fully appreciated.

It would not be proper for me to criticize the course that has been taken, but in view of our relationship to the countries in this hemisphere, which we hope will grow closer and more intimate with every passing year, in my opinion calls for careful study and a remedy both sane and sensible and just.

"How long we shall be obliged to maintain our neutrality is largely an executive matter and unless some change is made before long will call for more stringent measures than have yet been seriously considered. "The sub-committee on foreign relations, of which I am chairman, has undertaken to find out whether the revolutions in recent years in Mexico and Cuba have their origin or receive their encouragement from this side of the border, and until we have exhausted our inquiry we should withhold our judgment.

"I am very hopeful that Senator Borah of Idaho and Senator Shively of Indiana will join Senator Fall of New Mexico and myself in this inquiry on the Pacific coast, and nothing will be left undone to get at the real truth concerning the matter especially delegated to us by the Senate to investigate."

Senator Smith is always glad to get to Santa Ana. He has scores of friends here, many of whom called upon him yesterday. He found his father, now 83 years old, in good spirits after his recent sick spell.

FRED K. HAVEMEYER HAD NO GENIUS FOR MAKING MILLIONS

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Frederick Christian Havemeyer, eldest son in the family of which Henry O. Havemeyer, the sugar trust head, was seventh child, left an estate valued at $347,602, according to an appraiser's report, just filed.

Unlike his brother, the sugar magnate, Frederick Havemeyer had no magic faculty for making millions. He was fond of music and often exhibited a "violin made in 1700" to his friends.

The appraiser has ruthlessly fixed the value of this violin and another one like it at $10 each.

TRAIN CARRIES WOMEN AND CHILDREN FROM NACOSARI

SOUTHLAND GIVES COL. ROOSEVELT A ROYAL WELCOME

bara, as far east as Redlands and San Bernardino, and as far south as San Diego—large delegations of enthusiastic Progressives have come to attend these two great meetings. Some towns sent five or ten, others as many as fifty, one hundred or one hundred and fifty. In all respects this has been the most unusual and the most enthusiastic gathering of the cohorts of Progressivism ever known here.

Roosevelt was greeted here by six thousand people all waving red bandanas. He lauded California leaders of the Progressive party, giving them a personal guarantee, saying: "They are the men to inspire confidence. If any of them should prove untrue to his trust, I would personally take the stump against him."

Roosevelt criticized the Wilson and Taft platforms, declaring that neither candidate was willing to carry out the party planks they endorsed. The train remained here half an hour and left for Los Angeles late, Ventura is the only other scheduled stop.

WAS TO TALK AT SANTA BARBARA AND VENTURA

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Sept. 16.—Hundreds of residents gathered at the station here after midnight, when Colonel Roosevelt's train passed, and shouted for a speech, but the Colonel did not appear. It was announced that he was at Santa Barbara and Ventura, giving these towns ten minutes each.

CRYING SMALL BOY MADE DIVERSION AT MEETING

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 16.—During the Colonel's speech, a small boy in his father's arms wailed lustily. As the father carried the boy away Roosevelt grinned and shouted: "There goes a real Bull Moose, even if it is a little one. He is hot and tired now, but some day he will be all right."

All along the route the Colonel appeared at the car window or on the platform whenever the train stopped. Surf was the only place where he made a brief speech. He enjoyed the California scenery, seeing the coast line for the first time in years at daylight.

WOMAN CAPTURED FLEEING BALLOON

Caught Trailing Rope and Took a "Half Hitch" About Clothes Line Post in Back Yard

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Walter R. Smith, wife of a South Side jeweler, probably saved the lives of Captain Horace B. Wilde and Engineer John Decourcy of a dirigible balloon used by a South Side amusement park.

Mrs. Smith was sitting on the rear porch of her flat crooning her baby to sleep. She heard yells and looking up spied the balloon heading straight toward the blank wall of a street car barn across the street. The balloon was trailing a long anchor rope.

Mrs. Smith descended hastily to the back yard and when the anchor rope came along she grabbed it. She saw severely bumped against the picket fence when the balloon dragged her, but she took a "half hitch" in the anchor around the clothes post and dragged the navigators to a safe landing in her back yard.

SURPRISE PARTY

Company Assembled at Country Home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller Near Red Hill

A big crowd gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller, who live on the Browning ranch near Red Hill, intent on surprising Mrs. Miller, it being her birthday. All took packages and parcels and soon the dining room table was set with good things to eat. After dinner was served a trip was planned and approved of, it being a tramp across the orchard to Red Hill, a short distance away. All had great fun climbing the rocks for a view of the surrounding country. Then the caves were explored. When back at the house a feast of oranges was enjoyed, afterwards the time was spent with music and conversation, Miss R. Miller playing one piece on the violin. The phonograph furnished music for everybody, some of the very latest pieces being played.

Mrs. Miller was the recipient of many useful gifts. Those present were Eva Fulson, Gladys Robinson, Elsie McKinzie, Roland Gwynn, Will Rouse, Pressly and Lesley Woodall, Herbert McKinzie, Elmer Sims, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McKinzie, Mr. and Mrs. William McKinzie and two children, Mrs. James McKinzie and three children, Mrs. Hester McKinzie, Katie and Victor McKinzie, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller and two children.

WOMEN OF SANTA ANA ATTEND CITY COUNCIL MEETING THIS EVENING

All women of this city who are interested in the welfare of the boys and girls of Santa Ana are urged to be present at the meeting of the city council tonight.

The matter of rescinding the license granted recently to Harry A. Jones for combined pool and bowling alleys at 414 North Main street, with a parlor for women, will come up tonight. As was recently published fully in the Register, a number of leading women of Santa Ana appeared before the council the evening of Sept. 7, and presented a petition signed by a large number of women asking that the license be rescinded.

Those who are active in this matter declare that the women of this city see a menace to the morals of the youth of Santa Ana in the establishment of the proposed poolroom and bowling alleys to which both sexes would be admitted. They protest against such an amusement resort, and feel strongly that it is the high duty of the members of the city council to consider the matter from the standpoint of citizenship as well as from that of officials, and to rescind the license.

Women of California have now not only the privilege of the ballot, but the responsibilities which such privilege brings. Hence it is not only a responsibility to be interested in all civic measures which will influence the moral welfare of our sons and daughters, but it is a civic duty as well, to advance the morals of the city by taking active part in preventing vice or institutions that may breed vice. From this standpoint, it is the civic duty of every woman who deems the proposed amusement parlors to be a menace to the moral welfare of Santa Ana, to be present at the meeting of the city council tonight.

RE-OPENING WEEK SERVICES—$11,000 RAISED ON DEBT

The beautiful auditorium, enlarged and commodious, was well filled and handsomely decorated. Good music added much to each occasion. Over $11,000 was raised by Dr. Hitt at the morning service, to apply on the church indebtedness incurred through recent enlargement of the building.

HUCKLEBRIDGE-DOAK

Charming Riverside Girl Married at Baumgartner Home Today—Morning Wedding

Miss Jessie Agnes Doak, a charming young woman of Riverside, was married to Mr. C. E. Hucklebridge, a young business man of fine character, also of Riverside, at high noon today, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner, 1718 North Main street, in this city. Rev. C. H. Secombe of the First Congregational church performed the beautiful ring ceremony which united this happy young couple in the holy bonds of wedlock.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Nellie S. Doak of Riverside and the niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner and Mrs. Ella S. Palmer, was given away by her uncle, Mr. Baumgartner, and the groom approached the altar alone, his best man, Mr. Caleb Smith of Riverside, being unavoidably prevented almost at the last moment from attending.

Except Mr. and Mrs. Secombe and Madame J. W. Traylor, Pasadena, and Miss Lela Traylor, only the near relatives of the bride were in attendance, the groom having no relatives in this state.

The bride is an exceptionally sweet and graceful young woman, just out of the Riverside girls' high school. She is not only a "Native Daughter" of California but also of Riverside. Added to her personal beauty and loveliness are rare artistic and domestic accomplishments and capabilities.

The groom is a southern man who has lived in Riverside for several years, where his fine character and winning personality have made for him a host of warm friends. The beautiful home had been made very attractive for the happy occasion by the use of potted plants, ferns, asparagus plumosus, carnations and bride roses, while the young couple stood beneath a beautiful softly lighted bell of smilax and bride roses with clapper of magnolia blossoms suspended from an archway of smilax.

Mrs. J. W. Traylor of Pasadena presided at the piano and as the soft notes of Mendelssohn's Wedding March were heard, the bride and groom came slowly down the stairs. First came the bridesmaids, Miss Estella Doak and Miss Lela Traylor, daintily clad in white lingerie frocks, carrying arm bouquets of white and pink roses with fluffy bows of blue and pink tulle. Following them came little Miss Lida Doak, the youngest sister of the bride, in white, carrying a basket of rose petals with which she strewed the pathway of the bride, who came next, leaning on the arm of her uncle, and followed by the little ring-bearer, Master John W. Traylor, Jr., who carried the wedding ring in a magnolia blossom. They were met at the altar by the groom, who entered from the rear, preceded by the minister, Rev. Chas. H. Secombe. The bride presented a lovely picture in her dainty white robe with soft veil of tulle caught in her hair with wreaths of orange blossoms while she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair fern.

Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served in the dining room, which was decorated in pink carnations and asparagus plumosus. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hucklebridge left for a honeymoon trip to the beaches, after which they will make their home in Riverside.

MRS. BAKER, FAMOUS WOMAN, PASSES ON

Spanish Belle and Heiress in Golden Days of Romance In California

Los Angeles Examiner: Mrs. Arcadia Bandini Stearns de Baker, notable pioneer woman and oldest member of one of the famous early families of Southern California, as well as one of the richest women in the West, died yesterday at her home in Santa Ana, after an illness of fourteen days. She passed away at 8:45 o'clock yesterday morning, in the home at 1247 Ocean front avenue, which she had occupied for many years.

Surrounded by a number of relatives, her life had slowly been ebbing, through recurring periods of unconsciousness, since she was stricken with paralysis on the porch of her home on September 1, and it was only her marvelous vitality that deterred the end until yesterday. She was in her 80th year.

Mrs. de Baker's passing not only removes from Southern California one of its noted figures of a bygone epoch, but leaves to her heirs one of the largest and most important estates in the history of California, and of the entire West for that matter.

Her Estate $20,000,000
Her nephew, Judge J. J. Carrillo, yesterday stated that the estate is worth over $20,000,000, and it is made up mostly of land holdings that are linked closely with the history of Los Angeles and are among the most valuable in this region.

Mrs. de Baker was born in San Diego in 1827 and spent practically all of her life in Southern California. Her father was Don Juan Bandini, a son of Don Jose Bandini of the province of Andalusia, Spain, who, as a gallant lieutenant in command of the ship Nympha, served in the battle of Trafalgar, and later became the Spanish Admiral in charge of the fleet in South American waters.

At sixteen years of age this daughter of Don Juan Bandini was the most beautiful girl in Southern California, and the toast of the Southwest. At that age she married Don Abel Stearns at San Gabriel Mission.

WHEAT KING OF THE SUNFLOWER STATE

W. J. Trousdale of Newton, Kansas, Raises 100,000 Bu. of Grain on 5000 Acres

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 16.—Reports just tabulated here show that W. J. Trousdale of Newton is the "wheat king" of Kansas this year, and that from 5000 acres of land he will produce something like 100,000 bushels of grain, some of the land producing as high as thirty-two bushels to the acre. Trousdale only broke into the big wheat-raising class this year. J. N. Fike of Colby has been the "wheat king" of the state for five years, but this year, despite the fact that he planted 8000 acres, he will produce a crop of something less than 60,000 bushels, as the result of the strong winds before the rain came. More than half his crop was ruined. Some years he has had as high as 16,000 acres, but cut it in two this year because of the dry season last year.

The total wheat crop of the state will average sixteen bushels to the acre and will total about 95,000,000 bushels of hard winter wheat.

The corn crop will total about 200,000,000 bushels and the alfalfa crop will run close to 8,000,000 tons.

INDICATES FIELD GOES SOUTHWARD

FULLERTON, Cal., Sept. 16.—That there is a continuation of the higher gravity oil formation for some distance south of the Amalgamated lease seems to be demonstrated by the Petroleum Oil Company operating in section 24. Well No. 1, which made about 250 barrels, has been deepened and entered the coarse sand similar to that which was found overlying the light oil in the Amalgamated's No. 2.

The gas pressure is heavy in the Petroleum well, and the drilling force has had some difficulty in holding back the soil. The Petroleum is confident that it will succeed in increasing the production of this well.

The Standard will deepen Coyote No. 1, which on the pump is producing about seventy-five barrels a day. The best outlook for light oil is on the Standard's Emery lease south of the Murphy. Two wells are down close to oil sand and will be finished with standard tools, which has proved the best method of preventing infiltration of water.

With the opening of this territory the McNally and McComber ranch will be brought into line for development.

Uncle Ezra Says
"It don't take more'n a gill uv effort to git folks into a peck of trouble" and a little neglect of constipation, biliousness, indigestion or other liver derangement will do the same. If ailing, take Dr. King's New Life Pills for quick results. Easy, safe, sure, and only 25 cents at all druggists.

WOMEN DEMOCRATS MET ON SATURDAY

Recently Formed League Elected Delegates to Los Angeles Convention, Sept. 24

The Woman's Democratic League held an interesting meeting in the city hall Saturday to discuss future plans and elect delegates to the Democratic convention in Los Angeles September 24. Mrs. George Balderston had charge of the meeting as temporary president, and Mrs. H. W. Head acted as secretary. Miss Gertrude Montgomery and Mrs. Russell Scott were taken into membership.

Saturday, September 21, another meeting will be held at 3 p. m. in the city hall, to elect permanent officers and to plan the work. It is hoped that all Santa Ana ladies interested will be present to add their names to the membership roll.

The following delegates will go to the Los Angeles Democratic convention in Temple Auditorium:
Mrs. George Balderston, Mrs. H. W. Head, Mrs. Neill, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Elizabeth Davies of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Mary Coons of Anaheim.

HANDICAPPED This is the Case With Many Santa Ana People

Too many Santa Ana citizens are handicapped with bad backs. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause if the kidneys are weak. To eliminate the pains and aches of kidney back ache you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys—thousands testify to their merit. Can you doubt Santa Ana evidence?

Mrs. M. W. Davis, 768 Cypress ave., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family off and on for several years. The person who has used Doan's Kidney Pills was severely afflicted with kidney trouble, the chief symptom being pains in the back. On a number of occasions he was obliged to quit work owing to the severeness of the attacks. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Dean's Drug Store (now Wheeler & Mateer's Drug Store) brought prompt relief and they have been an unflinching means of relief in this case since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn, Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Will insist on Baths
The master of Nayan Union, County Meath, Ireland, in which institution compulsory baths for able-bodied tramps have been introduced recently, reported that 14 tramps were admitted the previous night, and, rather than take baths, seven left. The chairman then stated that the motto of the institution from henceforth, should be "Swim or Shift."

IMMIGRATION IS COMING TO COAST

California in Nine Years Captured Nearly 33 per Cent of Foreign White Immigrants

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—In a report of the Census Bureau of the Department of Commerce and Labor, it is shown that the census taken April 15, 1910, enumerated in California, 517,250 white persons of foreign birth of whom almost 180,000 were new arrivals who reached this state between January, 1910, and the taking of the census.

The total figures for the United States, as shown by this census, enumerated 1,334,545 whites of foreign birth. The figures for Oregon show that at the time of this census there were 165,001 foreign-born whites in that state of whom 38,273 reached the state during the ten years prior. For Washington, the figures were 241,197 foreign-born whites, of whom 96,183 reached the state during the ten years prior.

The percentage of increase in this state as shown by these figures is 44.8 per cent. In Washington it is 39.9, and in Oregon, 37.2.

The highest rate of increase in foreign-born whites is shown in Pennsylvania, where the percentage for the past ten years was 48. The low-water mark was reached by Kentucky, which showed but 15.7 per cent.

The purpose of this report, according to a statement issued yesterday by Director Durand of the bureau of Census, is to give the distribution among the states of the recent addition of the population. The figures, however, are only preliminary. They represent results of the inquiry made of all foreign-born residents concerning the year of their immigration.

The proportion of newcomers among the foreign whites in 1910 is much larger than was the case ten years before. The census of 1900 enumerated 10,341,216 foreign born persons, of whom 25.2 per cent had arrived in the United States after 1890. The reason for this larger proportion of newcomers in 1910 lies in the greater immigration of the decade which preceded the last census enumeration.

During the period from January 1, 1901, to April 1, 1910, the bureau of Immigration recorded the arrival in the United States of 8,248,890 immigrants. Of these 60.6 per cent were accounted for as present in the United States at the census enumeration of April 15, 1910. In the period preceding the census of 1900, from January 1, 1891, to June 1, 1900, the number of immigrants reported was 3,421,184, of whom 76.3 per cent were counted by the census enumeration of June 1, 1900. The comparison of the two periods indicates that the immigration to the United States contains a larger proportion than formerly of persons who go back instead of remaining here permanently.

AMUSEMENTS

A big two reel special motion picture subject of the Siege of Petersburg will be featured at the Bell Theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday night of this week, and will prove to be the most wonderful photo play seen in a long time. It has taken months of time and a whole army of picture actors, as well as horses, wagons, etc., to make every scene life-like and realistic, for which "The Siege of Petersburg" is noted. You cannot be disappointed in this big picture. Two of the best comedies will be seen in this special program, and the vaudeville will be one of those refined numbers, of expert violin playing, sweet singing and artistic whistling. The Keens, "The So-Different Musical Two." All at the Bell Theater.

A Growsome Weapon
A certain English family owns a silhouette which inspires every one who holds it with a horrible and almost irresistible desire to kill some woman. This weapon belonged to an ancestor whose wife deceived him and drove him mad. He swore revenge against the whole sex, and with the dagger killed his wife, his wife's sister and another woman before he was disarmed and secured.

It is quite evident that galvanized corrugated iron (and all flat sheets) will be considerably higher before this year is gone. There has already been several slight advances within the past thirty days, but we placed our orders early and the iron we have "to arrive" with a good stock on hand will hold this market steady for some time.

The general tendency is upward for all heavy goods in our lines and we have provided for the immediate future by placing our orders farther ahead than usual, by and by we will be compelled to pay the higher prices if our "guess" is correct.

Our stock of Plumbing goods is about complete and all our plumbers and tinner are busy.

The outlook for the year ahead is good, barring political errors.

ONE TRUE GOSPEL, MANY PERVERSIONS

The Gospel of Social Uplift
Among the Perversions.

Pastor Russell Also Points Out That the Gospel of Faith Healing is Another of the Many Substitutes For the Greatest of All Gospels.

Providence, R. I.,
Sept. 15.—In Providence Opera House Pastor Russell took for his text St. Paul's words, "I marvel that ye are so soon removed from Him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another Gospel, which is not another; but there be some that trouble you and that would pervert the Gospel of Christ; . . . let him be accursed."—Galatians 1, 6-8.

When we remember that there is but one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism presented in the Bible, we are astounded to find many faiths, many "Gospels," presented by many denominations, all bearing the name of Christ.

"Although the Apostle was one of the pioneers of the Church, even in his day the brethren in Galatia had turned away to a perverted Message. No wonder, then, that the true Gospel had become almost buried under human tradition!"

It will not do to say that we have many denominations, but only one Gospel. Denominations were not organized for amusement, but because the founders of each believed that they saw sufficient reason to justify them in forming a new sect.

Galatians' Perverted Gospel Prevalent
Today.

The perverted Gospel which the Galatians were disposed to accept is very prevalent today, and is as much to be reprehended. The so-called Gospel about which St. Paul took them to task consisted of an admixture of the restraints of the Jewish Law and the Grace of God.

This perverted Gospel was that in addition to believing on Christ it was necessary to become Jews.
Many Christians are still making the same mistake; they do not appreciate the Master's statement, "If the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed."

Pastor Russell charged that from the most prominent pulpits of Christendom the Gospel of Christ respecting the forgiveness of individual sin, the reconciliation of the individual heart, the individual begetting of the Holy Spirit and the personal walk in newness of life has been discarded.

"Many of the preachers, having had no such experiences themselves, were loath to talk about them. But salaries must go on and something must be said. The message of the hour, therefore, is athletics, manliness, position in society, attention to political duties, attainment of high positions in the world
—and money wealth!"

Far be it from me to teach inatten-tion to the duties and responsibilities of life. The Gospel of Jesus, however, distinctly impresses upon all His followers that their consecration to walk in His steps means their separation from worldly ambitions and from giving of chief concern to the preservation of their earthly lives. It exhorts that these are to be considered secondary to the new ideals set before them in the Gospel of Christ.

Elect to Bless the Non-Elect.

"At this point Pastor Russell struck to the root of his subject. He pointed out the almost complete failure to recognize the great 'Divine Plan of the Ages'—hidden for 4000 years—and in the days of the Apostles made known.
He recognizes that God is now conducting an Election according to fitness, and that after this He will use the Elect in the work of blessing the non-elect.

The followers of Jesus are not at liberty to adopt theories, either of their own or those of others in respect to the way in which the great work of uplifting the world is to be accomplished.
They are collaborators with God—and not with men.—II. Corinthians vi, 1.

Pastor Russell then proceeded to outline the Divine Plan as recorded in the Scriptures. He showed that God's purpose is, first, to select the Church, and then to uplift all those of the non-elect awaiting the summons to "Come forth . . .
to a resurrection by judgment," for "there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and of the unjust."—Acts xxiv, 15; John v, 28, 29.
R. V.

The resurrection by judgment will prove to be successful beyond the fondest hope. In proof of this we have, for instance, the Scripture, "When the judgments of the Lord shall be in the earth the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness."

The greatest perversion of the Gospel of Christ is the Gospel of Purgatory and eternal torture. And the Gospel of Faith Healing is opposed both to the letter and spirit of Jesus' teachings.
Not one of the Lord's disciples nor a Prophet was healed miraculously.

The miracles which Jesus performed were upon outsiders and were but illustrations of how He and His Elect, in Kingdom glory, will in the coming Age uplift and restore all the willing and obedient.

RED APPLES

Are more certain profit makers than even Valencia oranges. They are less expensive to plant and care for, and the land costs less than good orange land. They are easier marketed, and have a longer marketing season, and an almost unlimited market here in Southern California.

We have the place where the very best RED APPLES grow, where the climate cannot be beaten, even in this country of good climate, where pleasant breezes blow all summer, with an altitude of 2500 to 3000 feet above the sea. There is no excessive heat, bright, crisp and bracing air is the rule.

The Yucaipa Valley

Offers the finest opportunities to be had anywhere. Land reasonable, water plenty and of the best quality, only nine miles from Redlands.
No experiment for we now have plenty of both old and young orchards to demonstrate our claim.
We would like to talk this over with you, then show you the land. "Seeing is believing."

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

SET IT FIVE CENTS LOWER

Supervisors Make the County Tax Rate $1.05 Inside Cities and $1.45 Outside

Beach Delegation Again Presents Its Claims For Levy
For Connecting Roads

The Board of Supervisors today officially set the tax rate at $1.05 inside incorporated cities and $1.45 outside cities, the rate being five cents lower than last year. This rate was unofficially set two weeks ago.

This morning L. H. Wallace and W. W. Wilson of Newport Beach and J. A. Armistage of Sunset Beach appeared before the board and asked that ten cents of the levy be set aside for a fund with which to build roads connecting the beaches between City and Laguna Beach. This was the second visit of the beach delegation on this matter. Wallace and Armistage this morning pointed out the vast interest there is in beach property, and stated that the next five years will see a tremendous growth along the south coast.

Supervisor Struck stated that the rate had been decided upon and that it would be impossible to allow ten cents, which would bring $38,000, for beach roads.

Supervisor Smith said that perhaps the income of five cents could be spent on these roads, and he for one was willing to do what he could. He said the board thought it best to reduce the tax rate so that those opposed to the good roads bonds could not use the failure to reduce rate as an argument against the bonds. Supervisors Leck and Talbert expressed themselves as feeling that the board ought to be able to spend a good sum on the beach roads this next year. Talbert said the rate had been kept down on the petition of committees and of Assessor Sleeper.

Wallace stated that the beach cities are going to vote for the good roads bonds.

Bridge Contract
S. I. Wellman, secretary of the Young Construction Company, stated that he had offered to the Guardian Casualty Guaranty Company to build the West Fifth street bridge for actual cost of labor and material plus fifteen per cent, and the company refused to accept the offer. The casualty company is on the bond of R. L. Lague, who contracted to build the bridge for $18,350, and threw up the contract. The matter was referred to the district attorney to determine what steps will be necessary to compel the construction of the bridge by the casualty company.

Files Statement
W. L. Grubb, who was a candidate for the Republican nomination for supervisor of the First district, today led his expense account, showing an expenditure of $62.50, $10 being filing fee and most of the remainder being for cards and publications.

Made a Deputy
Fred Marsile was today appointed deputy by Sheriff C. E. Ruddock. The deputyship is one of many given by the sheriff to residents of the county.

Marriage Licenses
E. Elmer Hucklebridge, 27, and Jessie A. Doak, 19, both of Riverside.

ENGLAND GAINS
NAVAL SECURITY

Recent Franco-Russian Compact Aids Britain and Gives France Mediterranean Control

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The recently negotiated Franco-Russian naval convention and the older Anglo-French convention relating to the Mediterranean seaboard will be brought into practical operation within a few days, when the French fleet will be permanently transferred to Toulon from Brest.

This naval move will give to France complete control in the Mediterranean over any possible combination of the Triple Alliance and will leave to England the defense of the North Sea while Russia guards the Baltic Sea.

Experts point out that with the Russian fleet in the Baltic the strength of the British fleet will be materially increased against any contemplated German attack.

20 TONS OF SWEET
POTATOES TO ACRE

Prodigious Yield on Sunflower
Land Owned by Miss
Mable Buss

The following from a Central California paper gives interesting information in regard to the yield of a ranch property in the San Joaquin Valley, southeast of Bakersfield, owned by Miss Mabel Buss, daughter of E. D. Buss, formerly of Tustin:

"The sweet potato crop on the land owned by Miss Mable Buss in the Weed Patch promises an enormous yield. Already sufficient tests have been made by Mr. Coleman, the gardener, and by Frank Markie, to form an estimate of the crop, it will produce twenty tons of sweet potatoes per acre."

"This crop will more than pay for the cost of the land the first year and answers the question, 'Does farming pay and can a woman farm?'"

"Dr. Wells' early apricots on a nearby section yield from $100 to $300 per acre annually."

The Weed Patch is by far the earliest part of the San Joaquin or Sacramento valleys, and always will be the earliest by reason of its peculiarly favorable topographical conditions."

Campaign Funds Probe Committee Find Records That Were Thought Destroyed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Chairman Clapp and Senator Pomerene of the committee which is investigating campaign contributions conferred yesterday. The committee has discovered the hiding place of some of the records of 1904 campaign fund contributions which were supposed to have been destroyed by Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican national committee.

The scope of the investigations will be widened and take in the campaign funds of senators and congressmen to ascertain to what extent tariff beneficiaries and railroad systems have assisted "friendly" statesmen in holding their seats in congress.

The committee is expected to meet in Washington September 27. The first hearing probably will be held September 30.

EUCARISTIC PARADE
MARRIED BY RAIN STORM

VIENNA, Sept. 16.—The brilliancy of the great procession concluding the twenty-third Eucharistic congress yesterday was marred by a continuous downpour of rain and a chilly temperature. From 7 o'clock in the morning until 11 in the afternoon the Emperor followed the papal legate, Cardinal Von Rossum, with the host, through the Burgthor. Rain fell unrelentingly, drenching many thousands walking in the procession, as well as thousands of spectators along the route.

progressive candidates and its progressive platform, is the real progressive party of this nation. Unchanged in name, unchanged in its great fundamental principles, the Democratic party constitutes the largest fighting unit for progressive reform.

"The corrupt and criminal interests and influences which have fattened at the expense of the public under Republican rule, until they constitute a mighty menace to the nation, have been thoroughly exposed. It is a matter of common knowledge and public shame that these interests have debauched and corrupted courts and legislation; that they pay tribute upon the people of the nation; that they commit grand and petty larceny upon our citizens, and live, move and have their being in an atmosphere of graft. The Democratic party is the only party that offers relief from these conditions, and is the only party that is feared by the selfish interests. The other political parties offer to allow the present conditions to continue, or to perpetuate the system of nationalizing the trusts."

"The Democratic party proposes to strike at the root of the evil, the mother trusts, by an immediate revision of the tariff downward, beginning with those schedules which obviously are used to kill competition and arbitrarily raise prices in the United States, and gradually to continue this revision until our laws of taxation shall have been transformed from a system of governmental patronage into a system of just and reasonable charges which shall fall where they will impose the lightest burden. In short, the Democratic party proposes to supplant the system which has made our government a grand dispenser of favors, the maker and unmaker of fortunes, by a system based on the principles of honesty and economy, framed in the interests of the general public, and not in the interests of a favored few. Those interests which fatten on special privilege and which fear Democratic success, are already raising the old cry of 'Wool' in an effort to frighten the people into the belief that honest reform will injure business. This has been the trick of the plutocrat for ages, but the public has been shown what is going on behind the scenes, and the trick is exposed."

"The Democratic plan will injure no honest and legitimate business or industry; on the contrary, it will stimulate and improve all such business and industries by placing them upon a firm and independent economic basis."

"Predatory interests are making a desperate effort to beat the Democratic party, because they recognize in it the greatest foe to special privilege."

"We call upon every loyal citizen to join with us in our battle to preserve our government for the true benefit, progress and welfare of its people."

TORNADO SWEEPS
ONONDAGA COUNTY

3 People Killed, 50 Hurt and Loss $250,000 Near Syracuse, New York State

SYRACUSE, Sept. 16.—A tornado which laid a ten-mile trail of destruction across Onondaga county late yesterday afternoon, killed three persons, injured fifty and destroyed $250,000 worth of property.

The dead are William Madison, Syracuse; J. Dopp, Fulton, and Charles Bennett, Salina.

The black, funnel-shaped cloud first appeared near Long Branch, a pleasure resort ten miles from here.

Four hundred pleasure-seekers were thrown into a panic when building after building toppled over and two massive interurban trolley cars were hurled into the ditch.

Scores ran into a dance hall for shelter, but the tornado wrecked the building, injuring many.

The storm wrecked the bathhouse of the Syracuse University navy, doing $8000 damage to this alone.

Pitchers Hill, a settlement north of here, was practically wiped out, fifteen residences, a schoolhouse and a number of barns falling before the whirlwind.

The home of H. A. Wendell, which stood in the path of the tornado, was lifted from its foundation and turned completely over. In the house were Mrs. Wendell and her three boys, all of whom escaped uninjured.
